

Today's Gospel follows the encounter the two disciples had with the risen Jesus on the ROAD TO EMMAUS, where they had recognized Jesus in the breaking of the bread. Jesus appears to them and offers the peace that he alone can give. He reassures them they are seeing victory, not defeat – that he is truly risen. He is not a ghost and they are not hallucinating. He eats with them, and then gives them a detailed recounting of how prophecies from the Hebrew Scriptures have all been fulfilled by his passion. He reminds them that their mission now is to go to the nations and tell others the very same truth. We are reminded that God's plan of salvation did not take a detour at Calvary; instead it was the defining moment of victory. Therefore the church has a special mission to proclaim the Gospel each day.

Jesus calls them all witnesses of these things, a point echoed by Saint Peter in the Acts of the Apostles. Peter has indeed become a witness. Before the Holy Spirit came upon him in wind and fire, he, was fearful and doubtful. But now his fears replaced by faith in the Resurrection, he stands publicly as the rock of Christ's Church, challenging his listeners to repent, and inviting them to be baptized and share in Christ's victory.

For us who have faith in the Lord and lean on the cross of Jesus, the Resurrection becomes an anchor that preserves our hope, even during the darkest days of our lives. In the sacraments, Jesus takes our fears away, the same way he did on the road to Emmaus and in the Upper Room. Like his disciples, we are then called to go and free others from their fears, by telling them the Good News that Christ in his resurrection has conquered death.

FAITH SERIES: CATECHISM THROUGH THE YEAR

HOW WILL THE WORLD END?

The startling vision of the prophet Daniel, whose apocalyptic language is echoed in Revelation, have provided grist for many a speculation. Though a number of the book’s passages seem to refer to events now in the past, others clearly point toward the “end of days” (Dn 12:13). Nevertheless, given the cryptic and often symbolic nature of these and related biblical texts, the many interpretations of them are often contradictory. So the Church warns believers to avoid futile speculation on the matter. But, what can be said, definitively, about the end of the world? Here’s a summary of essentials from the Catechism:

- ♦ Jesus will return to the earth in glory (Mt 24:27).
- ♦ The Antichrist will appear prior to that, to deceive the world and persecute the Church (2 Thes 2:3-12).
- ♦ The Church will suffer the great tribulation prophesied by her Lord (Mt 24:3-14).
- ♦ The final victory of Christ on earth will not come through a gradual improvement in the world’s spiritual condition, nor by a special period of his earthly reign before Judgment Day. It will take place not within history, but beyond it, after Christ has brought an end to history by his glorious Second Coming (1 Cor 15:22-28).
- ♦ The Jewish people will come to recognize Jesus Christ as their Messiah before he returns (Rom 11:25-29).
- ♦ The dead will be raised bodily (1 Cor 15:20-58).
- ♦ Christ will judge the living and the dead, and the devil and his allies will at last be utterly overthrown (Jn 5:26-29; Rv 20:10-15).
- ♦ At the end of time, God’s kingdom will come in its fullness, and all things will be renewed, perfected, and consummated (Rv 21:1—22:5).
